Foreword

Fifty years are but a faint whisper in the story of existence... a day in the reality of an existence that is endless.

But to those who lived these fifty years, who breathed life into immortal marks with an indelible hand upon the face of time, it was the total of ambitions and dreams and yearnings; for others the form-written, songs yet to be sung. But for all, fifty years have a special, high school emerged.

For Perkinson Junior College fifty years ago, 1911-12, meant the high school emerged. Now today, 1961-62, Perkinson Junior College chapters have been filled, many stories have been written, and many fortunately, change rules the order of succession, and thus the initial the high school, is to pass. Now, as we glance in retrospect, the images fore us, spreading their splendor of a whisper of a beginning of Perkinson days are ahead.

mere forming of yesterday into to-beginning, when a dream called a is a very large full book. Many more have yet to come. But, un-member of the Perkinson family, of yesterdays' beginning march be-Junior College. And many more

During the first fifty years Perkinson Junior College has prospered and expanded.

The small tree that was planted by foreseeing educators has grown and has spread its branches ever upward.....

in its attempt to reach the apex -- the utmost peak in education.

Those with high standards and a great interest.....

in this growth have
realized many rewards.
Like the best of scholars they realized that
by giving as much.....

as they have received Perk-inston will be able to offer future students more. By helping in the continuing expansion.....

we can feel assured that Perkinston's high ideals and standards will never wan but will continue to grow and spread.

Perkinston Junior College

Harrison, Stone, Jackson & George Counties Cooperating

Perkinston, Mississippi

J. J. Hayden, Jr.
President

Dear Student:

Perkinston Junior College is celebrating its Golden Anniversary of quality education. After fifty years of service to its people, PERK is still searching for ways to extend the services of Perkinston Junior College to the people by the addition of two campuses, one in Harrison County and one in Jackson County.

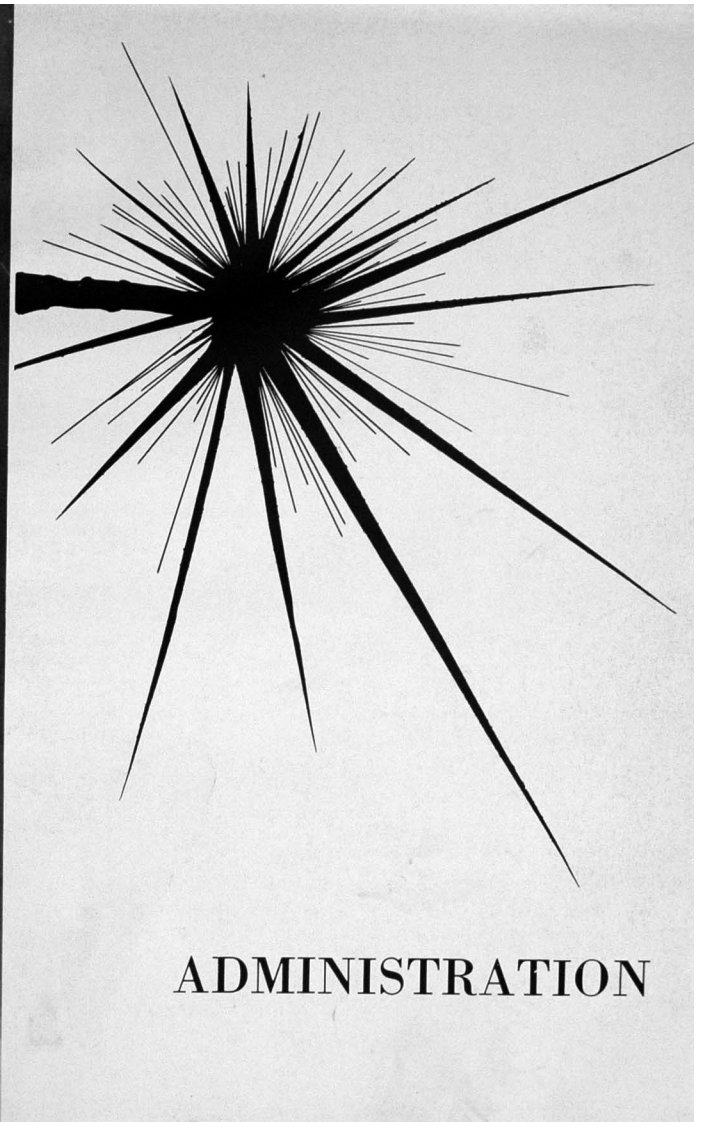

In the history of Perkinston, we have the largest college enrollment of over 800 students. With this large enrollment, we are having one of the most successful scholastic and extra curricular activity sessions. Our fine student body is working together to make PERK an even better college in the future than it has been in the past.

May I extend to you my very best wishes for your continued success as you further your education and choose a vocation in life.

Sincerely,

J. J. Hayden, Jr.

In Memoriam

Steve Foster

The past is but the beginning of a beginning, and all that is and has been is but the twilight of the dawn.... A day will come when beings who are now latent in our thoughts shall stand upon this earth as one stands upon a footstool, and shall laugh and reach out their hands amid the stars. H. G. Wells

THE PERKINSTON ADDRESS

Two score and ten years ago renowned educators brought forth in Perkinston a new junior college conceived in accordance with the needs of higher learning and dedicated to the proposition that all South Mississippi should be exposed to a college education at a minimum expense.

Now we are engaged in the art of fulfilling the basic principles for which that institution was established. We are just on the campus of that great college. We have come to dedicate a portion of our lives as a lasting symbol for those who here have given a vast amount of time and energy that this institution might survive. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we cannot dedicate -- we can not sanctify -- we can not venerate this campus. The brave scholars living and dead who created here have venerated it far beyond our poor power to add or detract. The school will little note nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they created here. It is for us, the student, father to be dedicated here to the scholastic work which they who built here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the tremendous academic task remaining before us -- that from these honored scholars and educators we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion -- that we here highly resolve that these men shall not have struggled in vain -- that this institution under God shall continue to progress -- and that this institution of the people, by the people, for the people shall always sustain the highest of principles. Taken from Lincoln's GETTYSBURG ADDRESS (Modified for the 50th Anniversary by Bill Joyner.)

We the mutual staff salute in reverence the fifty editions of Perkinson Junior College and salute in memory the deceased member of the family, the high school. We salute all the excitement and all the glory and all the advancements and, of course, all the students who wrote the story. And we look ahead to many sunrises to come, spreading their character of progress to fill another page. This is the story of Perkinson, fifty years old and still vibrantly young. We smile to the new and shed a tear for the old that is lost.
