Trident/Beauvoir

Remembrance of things past ...

A Decade of

The Beauvoir

1973 - 1982

The Beauvoir is published by the students of Jefferson Davis Campus, Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, Gulfport, Mississippi 39501. It is the Jefferson Davis section of the College yearbook, The Trident. New Series, Volume VIII, 1982.

Then and now ...

The way we were ...

... and the way we are. The 1982 Beauvoir takes a nostalgic glance at the past decade of Jefferson Davis Campus as reflected in the pages of the yearbooks from 1973 to the present. Along with the contemporary scene are examples of photographs and art that have appeared in these editions. Enjoy a review of "J.D. by the Sea."

Only yesterday ...

An ever growing campus ... the meeting of new friends and old ... concern for learning ... for people ... for the world ...

*Friendly
Reflections*

*Some call her Memory, and some Tradition;

A very special person to the Student Council and to the Jefferson Davis Campus was the late Chip Auburn. Active and enthusiastic as a 1980-81 freshman, Chip was elected Council Secretary in the Spring, 1981 election. This courageous young man touched the lives of all he knew. He is remembered with great affection.

Board of Trustees – the policy makers

In 1981 Dr. J. J. Hayden, Jr. marked his 29th year as president of Mississippi's largest public-supported junior college. Since its founding more than 55 years ago the college has experienced almost continuous growth, with enrollments more than 25,000.

In 1925-26 the college opened at what is now the Perkinson Campus. The Jefferson Davis Campus at Gulfport-Biloxi, and the Jackson County Campus, Gautier, were added in 1965.

Other facilities include the George County Occupational Training Center, Lucedale; Harrison County Occupational Training Center, Gulfport; and Keesler Air Force Base Center, Biloxi.

The policy-making body of MCCJC is the 29-member board of trustees, with representatives from Jackson, Harrison, Stone and George counties. Officers are Wilbur Ward, Lucedale, chairperson; Eula Switzer, Biloxi, first vice chairperson; Robert Slaughter, Pascagoula, second vice chairperson; James E. Bryan, Jr., Wiggins, secretary and Toltie Owen, Sr., Gulfport, treasurer.

Trustees included: Harrison County – Richard Creel, Russell Quave, Joseph D'Angelo, Murrell Hilton, Eddie Antoine, Jean Peden, Alton Bankston, Henry Arledge, Stone County – C. G. Odum, William Mauldin, Jr., Gordon Bond, Parnell Anderson, Charles Danzey, William Ivey, M. C. Murrah, Arlie Howell, William Reid, Jackson County – Dr. R. A. Roberts, Warner Peterson, J. K. Lemon, Larry Fornea, Jimmy Smithie.

Coming home

On a rainy, sleet-laced December night in 1971, the Bulldogs won the national junior college football championship.

Now, a decade later, team members, coaches, cheerleaders, cheerleader sponsor, managers and trainer, who played out their respective roles in the freezing slush at Savannah, Ga., were selected to receive the highest honor their alma mater can bestow.

They were inducted into the Alumni Hall of Fame during homecoming celebrations on Saturday, Oct. 31 at the Perkinson Campus. And amidst all the hoopla, the hand-shaking, the back-slapping, the laughter, a few tears were probably shed in nostalgic remembrance.

... of how Gulf Coast went to the Shrine Bowl as the underdogs and emerged the 22-13 victors over the Fort Scott, Kansas, Greyhounds, the defending national champions.

... of how the Bulldogs went undefeated all season and won the South Division and state championship games and were ranked second behind Fort Scott by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

INDUCTED: Winners of the national junior college football championship return to their alma mater a decade later for Hall of Fame honors.

National champs saluted

... of how Fort Scott had a big gun running back Tommy Reamon, considered superior to O. J. Simpson, who was unable to move the ball against Gulf Coast's tenacious defense.

... of how William "Fishbaa" Miller, then the doorkeeper of the U. S. House of Representatives and himself a "Perk" graduate, paced the sidelines and shouted encouragement to his "boys".

Then, as now, the Bulldogs were coached by George Sekul. His assistants were Clem Dellenger, still end coach, and Ken Farris, who relinquished his line coach position to become the school's athletic director.

Bulldog quarterback was James (Dinky) McKay from Long Beach, who never started a losing game with Gulf Coast. During his two seasons at the college, he led his team to 18 straight victories, including the one over Fort Scott.

Gulfport - Ken Boynick, Don Frederick, Melvin Morgan, Tommy Robinson, Larry Bonfield, Lawrence Hawthorne, Terry Helms, Harold Holton and Shied Foxworth; Moss Point - Willie Lee Sims, Charles Sims, Ronnie Miller, Jimmy Stork, Jerry Brown, John McDougle and William Holloway; Pascagoula - Jerald Thomas, Wayne Patrick, Johnny O'Brien, Rikkie Autmon, Kenny Larsen, Ronnie Thomas and Kerry Neal.

Jim Beck and John Jananovich, Ocean Springs; Ronnie Oustalet and Mike Noblet, Pass Christian; Charles Driskell and Skip Holland, Lucedale; Glover Hayden, Perkinston; James McKay, Long Beach; Bennie Williams, Vancleave; and Larry Cambell, Wade.

Managers were Cooper Farris of Perkinston and Stuart Hodges of Bloloxi. Trainer was Jimmy Dubuison, Gulfport.

The cheerleaders were Patty Backus, Ocean Springs; Tommy Perry and George Krebs, Bloloxi; Marcia Randall, Kathy Sarris (Eliasi), Darlene Kapp (Wixon), and Marilyn Skelle (Van Court), all of Long Beach. Sue Ross was cheerleader sponsor.

VICTORY: A wave of celebration sweeps across Bulldog territory as head coach George Sekul (top) accepts congratulations after the national championship win in 1971. Below Bulldog cheerleaders share the excitement.

Saluting service

John Clifton Dees, a Wiggins banker and community leader, was awarded the Sam Owen Trophy for distinguished service to the college.

The trophy, named in honor of the late Sam Owen of Gulfport, was presented to Dees by Kathleen Ann Sarris Elias during homecoming pre-game ceremonies in A. L. May Memorial Stadium.

Dees is a 1931 graduate of Perkinston. He is chairperson of the board of directors of the Bank of Wiggins and a former vice president of the bank. For 30 years, until his retirement in 1980, he was a member of the Stone County Board of Supervisors.

A charter member of the Stone County Industrial Board, Dees served for a number of years as its president and sponsored two Balance Agriculture with Industry (BAWI) programs in District One.

A self-described "ardent supporter" of MGJCJC, Dees helped many students receive the first two years of a college education by providing them with scholarships "before scholarships were known."

Organizations in which Dees has been active include the YMCA, Stone County Fair Association, South Mississippi Livestock Association, Coastal Mental Health, Region 13, Mississippi Economic Council, Odd Fellows and Red Cross.

The 3 R's

Instructors at top of class

Excellence in education was recognized during the spring Alumni Association banquet when the college cited three instructors for the annual Instructor of the Year honor.

Selected by students, faculty and administrators for their instructional ability and community and campus activities, were Philip Liotta of Gulfport, speech instructor at the Jefferson Davis Campus; Dr. Richard Miller of Brooklyn, biological sciences, Perkinson Campus; and Edna Hannah Shaw of Ocean Springs, English, Jackson County Campus.

Liotta has been with MGJC for 18 years. He was described as "an unselfish person who has contributed intelligence, humor, experience, common sense, fairness and enthusiasm." Active in many organizations he has been president of the campus faculty association, the faculty and college advisory councils, chairperson of the faculty standard of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools self-study, sponsor of the Jefferson Davis Players, the Mississippi Youth Congress and the Newman Club.

A member of St. John's Catholic Church, Liotta also belongs to the Knights of Columbus, Grand Knight of Gulfport chapter. He has been active in the Gulfport and Biloxi Little Theatres as a director and actor and holds membership in the American Theatre Association and the Mississippi Education Association.

Miller, a veteran of 11 years with the college, is vice president of the faculty association, chairperson of the college Student Advisement Committee, the Instructional Affairs Council and Science department speakers bureau.

He holds the doctorate from the University of Alabama and is listed in Outstanding Educators of America (1973). Organizations to which he belongs include the Mississippi Junior College Faculty Association, National Science Teachers Association, American Zoological Society and the Mississippi Academy of Sciences.

Mrs. Shaw is chairperson of the campus Learning Resource Committee. She is a member of the National Council of Teachers of English, was outstanding member of Alpha Chapter of ESA in 1973 and is active in the Southeastern Conference on English in the Two-Year College, the Mississippi Council of Teachers of English and the Mississippi Faculty Association. In 1974 she was named Outstanding Young Woman of the Year.

Hummer

Carley

Francis

Freeman

Turning a buck with a pen

They are successful writers, the four of them. So they harbor no false illusions of what it takes these days to turn a buck with a pen. Nor do they mince words in describing the problems would-be writers can expect in their efforts to "get published."

The four are paperback author Anne Carley; free-lance writer Jean Todd Freeman; author and English literature professor H. E. Francis, University of Alabama at Huntsville, and poet Terry R. Hummer, assistant English professor at Oklahoma State University.

As consultants of the 11th annual creative writing workshop, the four offered pointers on the ins and outs of the publishing world.

For Francis, a difficult problem at the conference, "is to convince these people . . . that they can't send their work out until they've done their best and make them face their worst."

The author of more than 200 short stories, including "Itinerary of Beggars," awarded the Iowa School of Letters 1972 short fiction award, and a novel, "Death in Argentina," finds that many writers have no conception of "when a story is a story."

"If I can show them in a week what it is, then they can go home and try to write one."

A first step "is to go ahead and try as long as you're sure you have something worth selling," notes Freeman.

Formerly an instructor at the University of Southern Mississippi's Center for Writers, Freeman free-lances full-time. From 1951-61 she was associate editor of the Ladies Home Journal. Her short stories, poems and articles have been published in several magazines, including Redbook, McCall's, Goodhousekeeping and Saturday Evening Post. She authored a children's book, "Cynthia and the Unicorn," and a novel, "Diagnosis Positive."

Since her more than 13 years on the Journal's staff, she notes a considerable change in the market "not because of the magazine staffs . . . there are fewer members on them. More articles and short stories are staff-written. They are not using as much free-lance material or practically none that comes in without the benefit of an agent."

But with or without an agent, the writer has to decide when to dive into the market. Carley, an 11-year writing workshop veteran, admits that in only the last four years has she allowed anyone to evaluate her work.

"I was afraid," she explains. "Then I saw that other writers were not being eaten alive so I decided that I, too, could jump in and swim."

She has kept above the surface with four historical romantic novels to her credit and sales on "This Ravished Rose" doing well.

Whatever genre the writer prefers, the market is flooded with books.

"The world is full of bad writing, always," says Hummer. "It's necessary. You have to have the bad and mediocre and the pure good."

Hummer is poetry editor of Cimarron Review and his works include collections of poems, "The Lost Woman," "The Angelic Order" and "Translation of Light."

Despite the competition facing them Francis advises writers "to work hard and be eternally optimistic."

"And determined," Carley adds. "Don't be too sensitive," admonishes Freeman.

Hummer surmises, "Write what you know. It's still true. Still it has to be taught."

Seasons of contrasts

Bulldogs downed in fall ...

... spring back in state win

It was a season of contrasts for the Bulldogs, marked by a 6-4 won-loss record for football and a state title win for baseball.

In early fall the Bulldogs started the season ranked as high as fourth place in the nation by the National Junior College Athletic Association's poll.

But at the time, head coach George Sekul warned against too early anticipation. Steadily the team began a decline and dropped from the rankings by the end of their game schedule. Plagued by the loss of key players due to injury or departure from the college, the Bulldogs were unable to defend the previous year's state championship.

For baseball coach Ken Farris it was a different story ...

Farris taps first one shoe and then the other with the broken Spalding bat and mutters that the 1981 season was a good one, everything considered.

The stoic veterans of 20 years of baseball exploits at Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College is standing near homeplate, eyeing the playing field before manicures by hand year-round.

He pulls a pack of chewing tobacco from the pocket of his blue jacket, extracts a wad and feeds it into his mouth with practiced precision.

"Could have done better," he says of his team's 48 wins in 58 outings, a record that earned for him his 18th South Division title and 13th State Championship.

"Didn't do as well as we should've in the (National Junior College Athletic Association) Eastern Regional Tournaments at Lousburg (N.C.)," he explains, punctuating the observation with a squirt of tobacco juice.

"We managed a shutout against Paducah (Ky.). Beat them 6-5 and 15-0.

Then we whipped Spartenburg (S.C.) 10-4, lost 6-2 to Lousburg, and were eliminated from the tournament when Spartenburg beat us 8-7 in 10 innings."

Farris holds the bat in one hand and lets it swing like a pendulum. "Had one of the best pitchers ever," he says. His eyes are narrow slits in the bright sunlight. "Keith (Medley of St. Martin) ended up with 15 wins and no losses. Set a new record here at the college. Won junior college All-American honorable mention and was one of four of our players named to All-State.

The others were Scott Nettles and Greg Beaugez, both of Ocean Springs, and Jim Nightengale of Long Beach."

Of the 1982 season, Farris declines comment. "Too early to tell," he says. He stops the bat, takes a parting shot at the red clay with the tobacco and heads for right field where a couple of newcomers are waiting.

THIS IS IT

It's a mad scene of jubilation for the Bulldogs after capturing the State title. The coveted prize is presented (below) to Nick Moore of Moss Point. Offering congratulations is Ray Busby (right), of the Mississippi Junior College Athletic Association.

On the courts . . . and at the net

In January the Lady Bulldogs, with Doris Smith in her third year as head coach, were 4-6 in conference and 5-11 overall. Bob Weathers marked his twenty-second year as coach of the men's team which was 16-5 at the time of this book's printing.

ON THE COURTS . . .

TENNIS ANYONE? . . .

Strike up the band

The sun's rays slid across the cold metal. An abrupt turn and they stopped on the rim of the surface.

"One, two," someone shouted.

The metal tilted upward and with a powerful force music broke the silence.

It was day four of practice and two hours of rehearsal were nearing an end for the marching band and dance and precision drill team.

The 115-member group, under the direction of Dr. John Jenkins and Delta DeLaFuentes, had students representing the Perkinson, Jackson County and Jefferson Davis campuses.
