President's Message

This has been a phenomenal year at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College with several growth opportunities that have allowed both students and employees to prove their commitment to excellence in all areas of the college.

The college has continued working toward its Achieving the Dream goals established in 2018 by expanding advising opportunities for students and providing them with financial literacy training. In October, the college received no recommendations during its SACSCOC onsite accreditation visit, a rare occasion for any college and one that highlights the dedication of our employees. Finally, in December, the football team won the National Junior College Athletic Association championship, the fifth national football championship in college history.

As a powerhouse in our state, region and nation, Gulf Coast continues to mark new and higher levels of achievement, leading the way for economic, educational and cultural prosperity in the many communities it serves.

Apprenticeship Programs

In 2019, the college began a campaign to establish more apprenticeships with local companies. Apprenticeship programs are an excellent opportunity for companies to create loyal, satisfied employees. Additionally, participating companies are assured the programs use certified instructors and use curriculum approved by the Department of Labor Standards and the college's accrediting board. Students in the programs get paid work and school experience at no cost to them. Once they complete the program, they benefit from increased wages and opportunities.

Keesler Federal Credit Union

MGCCC partnered with Keesler Federal Credit Union in February for the first financial-industry registered apprenticeship program and the only online-registered apprenticeship program in Mississippi. Standing with graduates of the inaugural class of the Bank Branch Manager Apprenticeship Program, are Andy Swoger, Keesler Federal's CEO and president, far left, and Ruth Montana, Human Resources director for KFCU, and Dr. Mary S. Graham, MGCCC president, far right. Nineteen Keesler Federal employees were enrolled in the first cohort, graduating in November 2019.

F.E.B. Distributing

Two students in the Commercial Truck Driving (CDL) program at Gulf Coast are participating in the F.E.B. Distributing Truck Driver Apprenticeship program that began in October 2019. The two participants completed the program in December.

ONE OF EVERY 19 JOBS in MGCCC's four-county district are supported by activities of MGCCC and its students. (Emsi MR-SAM impact model)

MGCCC impacts students by preparing them for success in the workforce or for transfer to a four-year college or university. Better jobs, higher salaries and more opportunities help them, their families, their communities as well as state and regional economies.

Each May, MGCCC holds an Adult Education graduation ceremony. In 2019, nearly 800 students participated in Gulf Coast's Adult Education program.

Adult Education

The College's Adult Education program provides individuals the opportunity to take classes that prepare them for a high school equivalency exam and to improve their reading, writing, language and/or math skills. Students may also earn a National Career Ready Certificate, Smart Start Certificate/Credential and explore Career Technical education and Workforce training options.

Almost 800 students participated in Gulf Coast's Adult Education program during FY2019 and 204 of those graduated during the same time frame, contributing to almost 15 percent of all adult education graduates in the state. Fifty-eight of those students participated in college credit programs while attending adult education classes through the MIBEST program.

Mississippi University for Women president Nora Miller, left, and Dr. Mary S. Graham signed a Memorandum of Understanding for new bachelor's degree pathways in September. The MOU will provide for students in certain degree areas to transfer up to 90 credit hours to MUW after graduating from MGCCC.

In September, Dr. Mary S. Graham, left, and MSU president Dr. Mark E. Keenum announced that the institutions were expanding their Engineering on the Coast partnership to include industrial engineering.

Forty students graduated from MGCCC's Collegiate Academy in May as part of the second graduating class for the program. Graduates begin participating in the program during their junior year in high school and upon graduation, have met the requirements for both a high school diploma and an associate degree. The college partners with high schools in its four-county district to offer this unique opportunity to highly motivated students.

Riley Brown and Nader Pahlevan were named Mississippi Rural Physician Scholars at the University of Mississippi. The scholarship provides up to $120,000 for graduate studies and medical school for those who qualify.

Mississippi Gulf Coast Emerging Scholars Partnership

The Emerging Scholars Partnership brings MGCCC administrators and advisors together with counselors, principals, parents, students and teachers from local school districts to prepare high school and college students to reach their full potential, receive scholarships and become academic champions. Workshops offered through the program will prepare students to gain scholarships to attend Gulf Coast and prepare them for transfer scholarships after completing their associate degree.

More than 70% of MGCCC students plan to transfer to four-year institutions of higher learning. While at MGCCC, they pay 1/3 the cost in tuition and fees and spend only 1/2 the cost on room and board as compared to four-year institutions in the state.

STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

Degrees Awarded by Curriculum

MGCCC awarded more than 3,600 credentials during the 2018-2019 academic year. The majority of graduates received an associate of arts or an associate of science degree. More than 70 percent of MGCCC graduates choose to transfer to a four-year college or university. On average, they perform better than students from other community colleges and university native students during their junior and senior year of college.

Every 10 years, as part of reaffirmation of accreditation with the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC), MGCCC has the opportunity to develop a new Quality Enhancement Plan (QEP) to improve an area of student learning or student success through a college-wide, multi-year initiative. The current QEP topic is Essential Skills and contains components for instruction in punctuality, listening and speaking.

In fall 2019, implementation of the QEP took place with roughly 181 Career students being exposed to Essential Skills in 14 sections of nine programs at five locations within the district. In spring 2020, implementation will expand further.

In addition to the creation of higher tax revenues to the state and local government, education is statistically associated with a variety of lifestyle changes that generate social savings. (Emsi MR-SAM impact model)

2019 Foundation Scholarship Gala

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College Foundation held its annual Scholarship Gala on May 20 at the Beau Rivage Resort & Casino in Biloxi. The annual event raised one million dollars for MGCCC student scholarships.

Funds raised during the gala provide scholarships through the MGCCC Foundation for students who need financial assistance. These scholarships help Gulf Coast students overcome barriers and offers them opportunities to succeed.

The MGCCC Foundation provided 12 percent of the financial aid students received during FY 2019.

MGCCC is committed to helping Gulf Coast students find academic and personal success whether through providing scholarships or meeting personal needs.

One of the ways that mission is accomplished is through food pantries located at each campus and center, providing access to a variety of food items for students and their families, and many full-meal options as well. Additionally, the food pantries provide hygiene items and some of them offer a professional closet where students can get access to clothing and accessories for job interviews and other professional events.
