Registration . . . again

Line after line, station after station, students and faculty alike put up with the hassles of registration.

A first:

The Student Council hosted a free hot dog cookout for freshmen the first day of classes. It was a chance to meet new people and to reminisce with old friends. Free food always draws a crowd at JC!

Country Round-Up

Yee-hah!!! For the first event of the year, students corral in the JC cafeteria for some foot-stompin', hand-clappin', low down country music! Sponsored by the Student Council, this was one of the best events of the year.

50's Day . . .

For some, old memories are relived. For others . . . well, we tried! Whether faculty or students, all seemed to enjoy both the dress and dance contests combined with the pep rally.

1983 Homecoming Queen

Mechelle reigns

The MGCJC-JC Homecoming Queen for 1983 was 19 year old Mechelle Howell, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Glenn Howell of Pascagoula. She is serving as secretary of Phi Theta Kappa and as Fellowship Chairman of the Baptist Student Union. Mechelle is a sophomore majoring in Christian Education. In her spare time, she enjoys swimming, canoeing, aerobics and tennis.

The Week

by Allison Brown

A shot heard 'round the world started the American Revolution. Well, we didn't exactly have a revolution or a shot heard around the world, but our cries of enthusiasm and shouts of cheer were heard from the coast all the way up to Perk, giving our team confidence to win the big game!

The enthusiasm and cheer began Homecoming Week '83 on October 31 and continued through November 4. The Student Council sponsored the events which led the spirit day by day. The week began with a poorly attended "Last Chance Oktoberfest" (it was a good try) on Monday, which led to an "Almost Anything Goes" in which almost anything went — including many Student Council members into the ice buckets and flour ... and eggs flew everywhere — on Tuesday.

On Wednesday the Council sponsored a cookout under the gazebo and on Thursday a handful of students dressed up and "punked out" in the latest sounds in the cafeteria. Friday's Homecoming Parade featured nearly every club on campus as the group circled the campus showering the students with candy. The Pep Rally was led by the Perk cheerleaders.

Saturday night the MGIC Bulldogs whipped the Northwest Junior College Rangers. Michelle Howell of JC was crowned our queen in pre-game ceremonies. She was escorted by Randy Champagne. The court was also presented at the dance held at the Bona Vista with Bonnie Massey III providing music. Students even stayed till 2 a.m. dancing — one of the best ever!

JC's own painter hats were introduced during the week and proved to be a popular spirit booster.

Fill the stocking

It would probably be hard for one of the students here on the JC campus to imagine, as a child, waking up and finding no presents under the tree Christmas morning. The year long awaited dream of Santa Claus slowly fades away.

This year, the JC Student Council helped fulfill this dream by collecting over 200 toys in a "Fill the Stocking Party" held December 7 and 8 in the cafeteria featuring a nine foot tall stocking, made by sophomore Nancy Martin. The toys donated to fill the stocking were distributed by The Lord is My Help in Ocean Springs.

When students donated a gift, they were rewarded with a gift pack from McDonald's which included a free game pass for the JC gameroom, a coupon for free french fries, and an entry form for a scholarship to be given away by McDonald's.

The students have learned through this project that if you give a little of yourself you will be rewarded. This project was just a small gesture in the eyes of the Lord, but it was a great gift in the eyes of the Lord.

Valentines at JC: flowers and dancing

Valentines Day at JC was a day for dancing, thinking of special friends, and making new ones. The JC Student Council helped bring the Valentine tradition to the campus this year.

The big finale of the day was a well attended Valentine Dance sponsored by the Student Council in the cafeteria. The walls were decorated with red and white streamers and hearts and students danced to "new wave and soul sounds." Eric Green was chairman for both projects.

Earlier during the day, Council members played cupid by delivering pre-ordered roses and carnations to sweethearts and special friends.

Mechelle Howell captures Miss JCC crown

Winner Mechelle Howell is shown in winning form — she was a co-winner in both the evening gown and talent portions of the competition. She is crowned by Rosanne Russell, 1983 Miss Jackson County Campus who won the Karen Hopson Dance Award at the Miss Mississippi Pageant last summer. Both are sophomores at JC.

Pageant marked with co-winners

The theme of the Miss Jackson County Campus Pageant was "Puttin' On the Ritz" — and it was a show indeed. The combination of 12 talented beauties, the vivacious Rosanne Russell (Miss JCC for 1983) and her dancers and the JC Singers made for a show primed with excitement and yes, even glamour. A touch of suspense was added when the campus Who's Who winners were announced to the full house.

A dozen girls, a dozen dreams of being the one to wear the crown. Twelve girls, each giving it her best, but only one can have the glory. Mechelle Howard stepped gracefully into the role of Miss Jackson County Campus, a role well won. Her talent was a humorous, original act of ventriloquism and singing and her choice of a stunning gown found her a co-winner in the evening gown competition in addition to her co-talent winner.

Sharing the honor of co-winner of evening gown competition was Cathy Joel, the first alternate.

Having the honor of second alternate was Melissa Johnson while Darla Green, third alternate, was a co-winner with Mechelle in the talent competition for her gymnastic routine to the pop song "Last Dance." Fourth alternate was Julie Malcom. Becky McNair was chosen by her fellow competitors as Miss Congeniality.

Kelly Finn was co-swimsuit winner with Cathy Joel. Pageant workers included Mrs. Terry Fountain, director; Dr. Elizabeth Nelson, Doug Mansfield and M.A.P. Carter, technical directors; David Farley, Eric Green, Carolyn Finn, Stormy Davis, John Lopez, Marie Lane, set design; Lynn Blaisdell, judges tea; Mrs. Mary Dyle, program art; Billie Lofton and Bruce Fisher, auditors; Al Price, inside program art; Robert Brown, photography; Mrs. Rhonda Hood, accompanist and director of the JC Singers. The pageant was sponsored by the campus Student Council. — Margaret Kouse

Drama group presents "1984"

During the fall semester, 1983, JC was visited by Big Brother when the JC Fine Arts Department presented George Orwell's vivid depiction of totalitarian life in 1984 — the play "1984".

Winston Smith, portrayed by Lawrence Hicks, struggles with himself because he cannot decide if he should be loyal to the Party, or to his love, Julia, portrayed by Andrea Johnson. Page Davis played Syme, compiler of the "Newspeak Dictionary", and Lori Lambert was Parsons, the loyal Party member. Parsons' bratty daughter Gladys was performed by Judy Graham.

Marco St. John (a local professional actor) was the voice of Big Brother, and the Inner Party Member, O'Brien, was George ShROUT.

Marc Reubel and John Lopez were Guards with Kim Mandrell as the Coffee Vender, and Debbie Douglas the Waitress. Donna Box played an English peasant, the Landlady, and Pam Byron played a Messenger.

Stage Managers were George ShROUT, M.A.P. Carter, and Sharry A. Suire. Kim Kleinpeter, John Lopez and Sharry A. Suire worked on properties. George ShROUT supervised building of the sets, while David Farley did many different technical jobs. Theatre instructor Mrs. Betty Oswald was director.

Tri-Campus Farewell Ball

Queen Ellen Mills
King Randy Champagne

After hours of moving tables and chairs, and putting together final pieces, the decorations were finished. The gazebo was dazzling, the tables were elegant and the tropical fountain was beautiful. The occasion was the annual MGJC Farewell Ball held March 14 in the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum.

The court was presented as the couples walked through the gazebo and paraded down to the floor. The JC crown was awarded to Ellen Mills, who was escorted by Randy Champagne. Other members of the JC 1984 Farewell Ball Court were freshmen Judy Delmas escorted by Dale Lee, and Theresa McLaurin escorted by Eric Green; and sophomores Cathy Joel escorted by George Shrout, and Becky McNair escorted by Leon Giaglaglione.

Spring one acts

A night of one act plays was presented Monday and Tuesday April 16 and 17, by the members of Delta Psi Omega, a junior college drama fraternity, as the spring production at Jackson County Campus.

"She Married Well", "How to Capture and Keep a Husband" and "The Great Western Melodrama", all one act comedies, featured students in the drama and theatre department at the junior college under the direction of Mrs. Betty Oswald.

Cast members from "She Married Well" are Jenny Meeker as Sally Bradford, George Shrout as Ned Bradford, Andrea Johnson as Edith, Bobby Nix as Peterson, Lori Lambert as Eula Potter and Marc Reubel as James Potter.

Miss Georgina Quackenbush, played by Joan Kecer, gives advice on "How to Capture and Keep a Husband" in the one-act of that name. Miss Quackenbush leads the audience through the romances of three couples played by Donna Box and Randy Champagne, Page Davis and George Shrout, and Judy Graham and Bobby Nix.

"Curses! Curses! Trapped!" exclaims Two Gun Percy as Filbert Fearless captures him. These characters are at home in "The Great Western Melodrama." Filbert is in love with the heroine Daisy who is also being pursued by Oswald Slugfest. Mr. and Mrs. McKew, Daisy's parents, round out the cast of characters.

The actors in "Great Western" were Pam Byron, Page David, Debbie Douglas, David Farley, Bobby Nix, George Shrout and Sharly A. Suire.

The three one-acts had a common technical crew. The technical members included stage managers M.A.P. Carter, George Shrout and Sharly A. Suire, Marlene Bryce was in charge of costumes while Kim Kleinpeter and John Lopez were working properties. Kim Mandrell was sound technician.

Lagniappe '84

Lagniappe, according to Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, is "a trifling present given to customers by tradesmen." It is also defined as "a little something extra". The various clubs on campus set up game and food booths by the gym after Awards Day ceremonies. A central ticket location was set up with customers giving tickets at the booths they patronized. Clubs kept half of the ticket money they took in at their booths and the other half, $166.95, was donated to the Ronald McDonald House project. Robin MacFadden was in charge of club participation.

There was music aired throughout the day afternoon by a DJ, Leon Giaflagione. The participants of Lagniappe Day were entertained by an air band consisting of Marie Lane, Allison Brown, Phyllis Martin, Tracy Spooner and Leon Giaflagione.

Luncheon hamburger plates were sold for a small price by the Student Council and New Images provided a bake sale for dessert.

Groups participating in Lagniappe Day were New Images, bake sale, plant sale, and drawing; Phi Beta Lambda, JC Jail; Special Services Tutors; hula hoop contest; Delta Epsilon Chi, rummage.

The final night at JC

Electronics students build super projects

Four electronics students at Jackson County Campus received top honors in electronics for their sophomore project.

George Ellis and Steven Smith, both of Gulfport, received top robotics honors while Deborah Hensley of Biloxi and Joe Windham of Gulfport were named for overall excellence in electronics.

According to instructor James Christine, sophomores in the two year program are required to build a project from scratch which has a minimum of three functions. Some build robots and others build electronics projects.

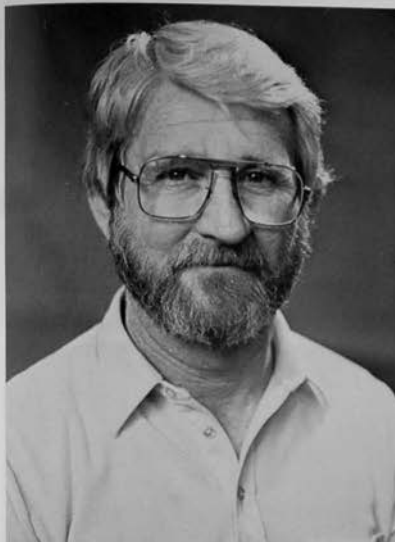

"They are predominantly electronically controlled and encompass the fundamentals of electronics learned in the two year course," he noted. Ellis's project was named best electronically controlled hydraulic robot with its arm and hand with two pinchers which open, close and rotate.

Best computer controlled robot went to Smith's micro-processor project with wooden pincher like hands.

Christine stated that the electronics technology course at the junior college is constantly changing due to the rapid advancements in the field. Instructors Christine, Charles Orman and Tom Forrester teach high technology and keep abreast of the latest in industry.

Robotics, instrumentation control, laser communications systems and optical fibers have been added to the curriculum in recent years to keep up with the constantly changing field.

"Most people think of electronics as merely radio and television. It's far more than that today," Christine stated.

Robert Hudson selected Instructor of the Year

Machine shop instructor enjoys job

"Old machinists never die... they just get bored."

This saying is on the wall of machine shop instructor Robert Hudson's office. But, Hudson is far from being bored for he has been awarded the title of MGCJC Jackson County Campus Instructor of the Year.

Hudson was nominated by his students and other faculty and was honored at the Alumni Association Spring Banquet at the Jefferson Davis Campus April 27.

The machine shop instructor has been with Jackson County Campus for eight years and has been working with machines for 30. According to Hudson, when he first began working with machines, it was totally by chance.

He has just finished basic training and was assigned to work with machines by the Navy. This job required working with raw materials and cutting, shaping, or forming them into useful parts, which are used in all mechanical mechanisms (the skill in which he is presently teaching).

After retiring from the Navy, he applied for a machine shop instructor job at JC and within a month he was accepted to fill a vacant spot. When the new instructor first began, he had six students. Now he is proud to say that the course averages 25-30 students per semester, with most of them graduating and working in major corporations.

Hudson has also recently received his Masters Degree by attending school at night while teaching during the day. But accomplishing this feat and winning the Instructor of the Year Award are not Hudson's only rewards. Three years ago, he placed first in the state in a Machines Trade NOCTI Exam. This was an optional test, but Hudson feels that in the future, all machine instructors will be required to take it.

One of the new programs at JC is computer machinery, which was one of the first on the Coast. This program is designed to print patterns, programmed into a computer, on to a metal surface.

Hudson is married and has four children. He makes his home in Ocean Springs.

As for being named JC Instructor of the Year, Hudson simply said, "It was the students who recognized me, and that meant a lot to me. It was reward enough just to be nominated." — Allison Brown

Phases staff works hard to capture year

Phases is the yearbook staff which is open to anyone interested in working on a yearbook. There is a lot of hard work in making a yearbook but it is very rewarding to see all the hard work and effort slowly taking shape and finally being finished. The challenge was in working to provide a complete picture of life at JC during the 1983-84 school year.

Student Council keeps JC going with activities

The Student Council stayed busy all through the 1983/84 school year. Council members began distributing yearbooks in the fall and signing up students for clubs. They ended the last day of school with Lagniappe Day April 27.

One of the many activities in between was the freshman assembly when officers told the new students about the campus and informed them of the freshman cook-out. The council was also responsible for representative elections, homecoming elections, Who's Who elections, Farewell Ball elections, and executive council elections for the next year.

The power force behind most campus activities, the council also sponsored the Country Round-Up, the 50's Day Dance for J.C.'s home game, homecoming week, the Valentine's Dance and the Farewell Ball held in the Coast Coliseum in Biloxi.

Coastliner keeps JC "in the know"

As the leaves of the pages are turned, and the JC COASTLINER Vol. 2 is placed on the shelf, the 1983-1984 school year came to an end.

This volume held issues which came in colors from blue to green, red to black. It covered such special events as homecoming and the Miss JC Pageant, and featured such stories as vintage clothes, health occupations, studying to dating. The paper, besides its special events and feature stories, has had two columns this year, "Classic Corner" and "Remember When."

The sponsor of the JC COASTLINER is Mrs. Terry Fountain. The first semester staff included co-editors Sharryl A. Suire and Allison Brown; freshmen, Tammy DuMond, Sandy Brown, and Margaret Rouse; and sophomores, Melissa Johnson, Mike Hatley and Greg Marshall.

The second semester staff included co-editors Allison Brown and Margaret Rouse; freshmen, Tammy DuMond, Eric Green, Lydia Lawson, Amanda Stegenga, and Eric Green; and sophomores, Sharryl A. Suire and Michael Majure.

Co-editor Allison Brown was elected co-secretary for the Mississippi Junior College Press Association at the annual spring convention in April.

Robert Brown was student photographer for both semester staffs.

ROTC's "Long Rangers" win state awards

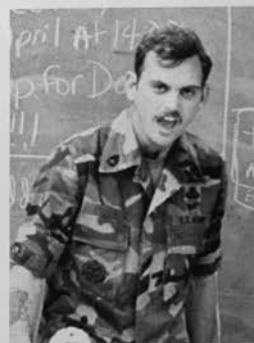

"About face, forward march!" These orders were heard loud and strong as the JC Rangers marched their way to a first place victory in the Expedition Drill at the ROTC Competition at USM in the spring. The team placed second in the overall competition.

This is the first year JC's ROTC has sent a Ranger drill team into competition. This year the Rangers competed against approximately 22 different teams from various high schools, junior colleges and senior colleges all over the state.

The Rangers were led by Sgt. First Class Douglas W. Long, ROTC instructor, who won the money tree worth $150 which was spent a few minutes later. A few team members smiled and said, "He treated us all out to eat."

The group is led by Sgt. Major Barry Exzell and four squad leaders Sgt. Billy DeMalade, Sgt. Phyllis Martin, Sgt. George Shrout, Sgt. Robin MacFadden and Supply Sgt. Leon Luck. Other members of the team include Bobby Nix, Kim Klempeter, Philip Crum, Carla Muse, Charles Rivers, Susan Westmoreland, John Lewis, Judy Delmas, Debbie Pinto, Dale Lee, Lynn Blaisdell and Trey Hudson.

The Rangers also participated in the Super Star Day at USM. Out of approximately 29 teams, the Rangers' best times were in the eagle egg carry, rope bridge, and the izzi dizzi. Overall, the Bravo team won third place and the Alpha team won second place. Donna Ward was third runner-up as Miss Super Star Queen.

Drama group presents Spring one acts

The JC drama students stayed very busy during the '83-'84 school year. October 28 and 29 saw JC's fall production of George Orwell's "1984".

The JC thespians brought the totalitarian society to life on the Fine Arts Auditorium stage.

The drama students then participated in an initiation of new members to Delta Psi Omega, the junior college drama fraternity.

A formal ceremony was held December 2 followed by dinner at the Tiki for the members.

The Alabama Shakespeare Festival visited campus in September. Several members of the company arrived on campus early in order to conduct workshops on various aspects of drama production.

That evening, the entire company presented Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors" to a packed house.

Spring semester brought the Repertory Theater of America to JC. They presented Neil Simon's adaptation of Anton Chekhov's short stories — "The Good Doctor".

"She Married Well", "How to Capture and Keep a Husband" and "The Great Western Melodrama" were presented by the JC drama students April 16 and 17 in A Night of One Acts, JC's spring production.

Membership is by invitation only to students who have earned a 3.4 grade point average for a 15 hour semester of complete work and who have maintained a 3.4 grade point average on all other college work. Also taken into consideration are moral and character values of the student. This year twenty-five students were initiated into Phi Theta Kappa.

Dr. Elizabeth Nelms and Mrs. Amarilyn Stroud are the advisors for Phi Theta Kappa.

Activities included having an arts and craft show, Pine Tree Crafts, Tupperware sale and Teacher Appreciation Day. Phi Theta Kappa also participated in the Leadership Workshop, regional and national conventions, and the Honors Institute of both 1983 and 1984.

Delta Epsilon Chi places in state event

Delta Epsilon Chi held several fund raisers this year. They had a fashion show, bake sales, and a 'garage sale' during homecoming week. The proceeds of the events were used to defray the costs of participating in the State DECA Conference. The junior college level competition was held in Biloxi at the Royal D'Herville.

JC had six students placing from the first to sixth place in the events. They were as follows:

Barbara Carter Apparel and Accessories 1st
 Patti Patterson General Merchandise 2nd
 Beth Vajner Fashion Merchandise 1st
 Geri Jenne General Merchandise 4th
 Robin Allen Sales Representative 5th
 Angela Williams Food Marketing 6th

Beth Vajner, the first place winner in Fashion Merchandising, will go to Kansas City in May to represent Mississippi at the National DECA Conference.

A new student recruiting team has surfaced on each of the MGJC Campuses this year. The Gulf Coast Reflections, Jackson County Campus is proud to present six members of the JC Hospitality team, Nancy Martin, Johnny Stallworth, Marcia Sumrall, John Lopez, Allison Brown and Sandy Brown. The two alternates are Phyllis Martin and Eric Green, and they are sponsored by Dr. Bruce W. Fisher, Director of Admissions and Ms. Carolyn Allen, career counselor.

During the spring semester, the JC team stayed busy traveling to and recruiting at the various high schools in the county. They also conducted tours for visiting schools on the campus, and worked with the summer and fall registrations.

The JC recruiting team is part of a larger team consisting of 20 students, six from each of the large campuses (JC, JD, Perkins) and two from the smaller campus in George County.

Devotionals, Bible studies and fellowship

Baptist Student Union is a Christian group for all students regardless of their religion. The club is sponsored by the Baptist faith and holds devotionals, has guest speakers, Bible studies and fellowship times. Some of the activities consisted of a gong show, chili supper, films, a Lock In, Christmas party, cook-outs, and a Dallas Holmes Concert in Mobile. The BSU attended the state convention in Tupelo.

VICA Club maintains active profile

"To foster a respect for the dignity of work and an attitude of excellence in the place of work." These are the goals and purposes of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, or better known as the VICA Club.

The VICA Club has been involved in several activities this year, but the main event was their state competition in Jackson. This year, the JC Campus had one winner at the competition, Jeanette Walker of Gulfport.

The club is sponsored by Michael LeBatard, drafting and design instructor, and Glen Houston, automotive instructor. The 1983-1984 officers are Bob Dorsey, president; Todd Woods, vice president; Lisa Richey, secretary; Gerald Thaggard, treasurer; Kelly Lockhart, reporter; and Ralph Cruthirds, parliamentarian.

Collage of college year

Nancy Martin, editor

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Terry Fountain, Yearbook Advisor; Robert Brown, Photographer; and the Yearbook Staff for standing behind me and helping me with the yearbook when it seemed like the whole thing would fall apart. Their assistance and support has been terrific and greatly appreciated.

This yearbook was a new experience that has proved to be challenging, time consuming and at times aggravating. But most of all, the yearbook has been a rewarding experience.

I have enjoyed being editor of the yearbook and I hope you enjoy the yearbook as well.

Thanks Again,
Nancy Martin

The close of a day can be viewed in two ways — the end of something or the promise of a new beginning.
Our time at JC has ended.
But we have the promise of a tomorrow that will be better . . .
because we were here — together.

Mrs. Eula Switzer of Biloxi was reelected to chair Gulf Coast's 29-member Board of Trustees, the college's policy-making body.

Mrs. Switzer, vice president of Coast Water Works, Inc., was one of five officers elected unanimously at the December 1983 meeting. Among them is James E. Bryan of Wiggins, a retired forester, who was elected first vice chairman.

Others are Warner Peterson of Pascagoula, second vice chairman; Joseph H. D'Angelo of Gulfport, secretary; and Wilbur

G. Ward of Lucedale, treasurer.

Mrs. Switzer, who was appointed to the board by Harrison County Beat 4 Supervisor Hue Snowden, also represents Beat 5. She is the only trustee to represent more than one district and the first woman to chair the GCJC board.

Active in civic affairs, Mrs. Switzer is a member of many organizations, including the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Mississippi Trustees Association. She was president of both groups.

Homecoming 1983

Alumni honor banker

Sometimes the burning taper of one small deed lights the way to a lifetime of selfless service to humankind.

It happened that way to John Dees during the dark, lean years of the Great Depression.

There was a black family living in the Mississippi Delta who wanted to come home to Perkinston. They had been tenant farmers and now were destitute. My father sent me to get them, Dees recalls. He continues:

When I got to Arcola, driving an open truck, I found waiting for me a grandmother and a widowed mother and her nine children. They didn't have a nickel among them.

We packed all their possessions in the truck and they climbed on top. I imagine we looked like something from the 'Grapes of Wrath'.

When we arrived in Vicksburg, I stopped and bought a dozen hamburgers and soft drinks to go with them. That was the last time we ate until we got to Perkinston about 2:30 the next morning.

Those people were so overjoyed that someone cared about them. Seeing that happiness made an impression on me. It was then that I became interested in helping people in need.

John Clifton Dees

Hall of Fame inductee

John Clifton Dees, Bank of Wiggins board chairman and retired businessman, was inducted into the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College Hall of Fame on November 5, 1983.

A 1931 graduate of what is now Perkinston Campus, Dees became the 14th recipient of the award, presented to him by GJCJC President Dr. J.J. Hayden, Jr. at a homecoming banquet at Perkinston.

In accepting the award, Dees said he has "always believed that an education is a good investment, but that a junior college education is still the best bargain."

Dees was born in 1912, the same year the Harrison County Agricultural High School (now the Perkinston Campus) began operation. And for more than 44 years he lived in its shadow.

He told the more than 400 guests who had assembled to pay him homage that he was "supervisor of the barnyard" when he was a student at Gulf Coast. "The job taught me two things," he said, "how to be a supervisor and to watch my step."

For 30 years Dees served as a Stone County supervisor, claiming the office in the first primary for eight consecutive terms.

"I am proud of this college and its leadership — it's the best (junior college) in the state," proclaimed Dees.

A staunch supporter of MGCJC, Dees helped students to obtain their first two years of college before scholarships were known. He continues to contribute a full scholarship each year and coordinates another full scholarship from the Bank of Wiggins.

Earlier at the banquet, T.L. Davis, president of the Bank of Wiggins, announced that two perpetual $500 scholarships in tribute to Dees and MGCJC have been established by the bank's board of directors.

The scholarships will be awarded each year "as a token payment to a man who has spent most of his adult life helping fellow humans," said Davis.

Dees, a humanitarian in his own right, always found time to be involved in civic affairs and to help his community. Some of the visible things resulting from his untiring efforts are the Stone County Library, the Stone County Office Building, Flint Creek Water Park, International Paper Company and the Mental Health Center in Gulfport.

The best portion of a good man's life, His little, nameless, unremembered acts Of kindness and of love.

Hermes Hague of Pascagoula receives Sam Owen Trophy from Eula Switzer of Biloxi, chairperson of MGCJC Board of Trustees.

Owen Award Hague cited for service

The Sam Owen Trophy for distinguished service to Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College was awarded to Hermes Hague of Pascagoula during pre-game ceremonies.

Hague, a 1943 graduate of what now is MGCJC Perkinston Campus, was presented the trophy by Mrs. Eula Switzer of Biloxi.

Receiving a permanent trophy from Switzer, chairperson of MGCJC Board of Trustees, was George Schlogel, Gulfport banker, who was last year's recipient of the award. The presentations were made during the MGCJC homecoming on Perkinston Campus.

Hague, immediate past president of MGCJC Alumni Association, was cited for exceptional service to the college through his work with the alumni and foundation. He was introduced by college president Dr. J.J. Hayden, Jr.

Having served two consecutive terms as district alumni president, Hague previously served as first and second district vice president and as president of the Jackson County alumni chapter. While district president, he was an honorary member of the Foundation Board of Directors.

Hague is employed by the National Marine Fisheries Service as Fishery Report Specialist, a position he has held more than 30 years.

Ruth Ford honored

Ruth Ford, MGCJC development officer who resigned in July of 1983, was honored at a homecoming luncheon. She was presented a silver chafing dish by Dolores Mauldin, district alumni president.

Ruth has returned to teaching so she may have more time to spend with her young daughter, Alison.

Eight of the nine years she worked for the college were spent with the Alumni Association and the Foundation.

Her grace and charisma strengthened existing relationships with alumni and made many new friends for the college. Both organizations flourished under her supervision.

Ruth, assisted by daughter Alison, opens gift from the Alumni Association.

They're tops! Instructors of the Year named

The highest pinnacle of success is obtained when one is recognized for excellence in a chosen profession.

The professional excellence of three college instructors was recognized during the spring Alumni Association banquet when they were cited for the Instructor of the Year honor.

The instructors were selected by students, faculty, administrators and alumni for their outstanding contributions to education and to the community. They are Cheryl Catalano, Perkinston, general studies; Karen A. Davis, Jackson County, A.D. nursing; and Quincy Long, Jefferson Davis, science.

Catalano has taught at Perkinston for four years and at the Keesler Center part-time (history) for eight years. She is a member of the Junior College Council, Mississippi Reading Association, Phi Gamma Mu, Phi Alpha Theta, Southeastern Conference on English in the Two Year College, and National Council of English Teachers. She has served on numerous campus committees and as faculty advisor to the Alumni Association Board of Directors. She is an active member of the association. A member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Catalano has taught Sunday School for 12 years. She and her husband, Guy, make their home in Long Beach.

Davis has been teaching for eight years at Jackson County Campus. She is a member of American Nurses Association, and is first vice president and member of the board of directors of District No. 6 Nurses Association. She is Faculty Advisor for the Student Nurses Association and has served on various campus committees. Davis is organist at St. Elizabeth Seaton's Catholic Church. She and her husband, John, reside in Ocean Springs.

Long has taught at the Jefferson Davis Campus for 18 years. His memberships include Beta Chi Chapter of Beta Beta Beta, USM Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, and Omicron Delta Kappa. He was elected to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. A resident of Long Beach, he served on a special citizens' committee for zoning a newly annexed area, and as a Cub Scout den leader. He is a member of the Long Beach Junior High PTA. Long and his wife, Mary, make their home in Long Beach.
