Alumni Hall of Fame

Dr. J. J. Hayden, Jr.
President Emeritus

Dr. J. J. Hayden Jr., president emeritus of Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, was the 17th alumnus to be inducted into the school's Alumni Hall of Fame, Nov. 1, 1986.

Hayden, a 1939 graduate of what is now MG/CJ's Perkinston Campus, served as the college's chief executive officer for 32 years.

Conducting the ceremony for the veteran educator was his successor, Dr. Barry L. Mellinger.

In his response, Hayden paid tribute "to the people who were instrumental" in helping him build the first multi-campus Junior College in the state and one of the first in the nation.

"People made it possible for me to achieve what I have accomplished," Hayden said. "... and I predict the college will continue to grow because of people who care."

Hayden's career with the college began when he returned to his alma mater in 1950 as instructor of history. In 1952, he became dean of men and a year later was appointed president, at age 33 the youngest man ever named to the post.

It was under his leadership that the college grew from the small rural school of 800 students to the college it is today with three campuses and four centers — and nearly 8,000 students.

But in attaining the presidency, the high point in his career, the Pass Christian native traveled a circuitous route that included service in the U.S. Coast Guard during World War II.

After his discharge, he "went to Maine to seek my fortune, but after two years of smelling sardines and other fish and freezing in the winter, I decided there had to be a better way to earn a living."

In quest of the better way, Hayden enrolled at Mississippi State University, where he received a bachelor's degree in secondary education and a master's in history. He earned the doctorate at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Hayden today is "taking it easy" with his wife Lillian in the new house they built at Pass Christian. Later he would like to work part-time as a junior college consultant.

"Helping a college solve its problems, the way people helped me — that would be a real challenge."

"... I wasn't so much the catalyst as I was a vessel or an instrument that was used in part of it ..."

Dr. J. J. Hayden, Jr.

Khayat receives Owen Award

Edward A. Khayat of Moss Point, former president of the Jackson County Board of Supervisors, was awarded the Sam Owen Trophy for outstanding service to Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College.

Making the presentation to the long-time political figure was Earl N. Sellier Jr. of Pass Christian, a former member of the college Board of Trustees.

Khayat was instrumental in establishing the MGCJC District and in getting the University of Southern Mississippi building on the Jackson County Campus. He served as supervisor of District 2 for 34 years, was president of the Jackson County board for 15 years and was executive secretary of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors for 24 years.

The Owen Award was established in 1956 by Sam Owen, a Perkinston Campus alumnus from Gulfport, who died in Hurricane Camille. It was continued by members of his family.

Eddie A. Khayat

Instructors of the Year Named

Dr. Joan Fitch

Dr. Tom Walden

Instructors of the Year were honored at an Alumni Association Cajun buffet on the Jefferson Davis Campus.

The instructors, cited for their outstanding contributions to education and their community are Dr. Joan Fitch, English instructor, Jefferson Davis Campus; Patt Odom, art instructor, Jackson County Campus; and Dr. Tom Walden, physics instructor, Perkinston Campus.

Fitch, who lives in Gulfport with her husband David has taught at Gulf Coast for 12 years.

She has the distinct honor of being the only person to be chosen from the south and the only junior college instructor in the nation to receive a Fulbright professorship. And she has received two — one in 1982 to study and teach in India and the other in 1986 to Italy.

In 1978 she was one of 12 college English teachers chose to study at Princeton University on a stipend from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

A student said of her, "When Dr. Fitch enters the classroom, she brings with her all of the dignity, assurance, and ability of her profession... she is knowledgeable, yet humble; she is exciting, yet fair."

Odom has been teaching at Gulf Coast seven years. She lives in Ocean Springs with her sons Robert Charles and Thomas Casey Drake.

She will be one of five artists of Ocean Springs to be featured this year in the "Mississippi" Magazine. She is presently writing a book on art and her Mardi Gras poster this year was the first poster to be published and sold in the city of Biloxi.

Her art has been exhibited throughout Mississippi and in Alabama and Louisiana. The awards she has won are too numerous to mention.

One of her students said, "She is hard working, caring, giving and extremely knowledgeable about the history and application of the many and varying medias in visual art."

Walden has taught at Gulf Coast for 13 years. He lives in Perkinston with his wife Nellie Sue and their two sons Clay and Alan.

He has had numerous articles published and has delivered papers to the Mississippi Academy of Science four times, and to the Mississippi Science Teachers Association and the Mississippi Association of Physicists.

He has been named Rotarian of the Year, Who's Who in the South and Southwest, Outstanding Young Men of America and was awarded three National Science Foundation scholarships.

A student said of him, "He has pushed me more than any other teacher that I've had. I didn't know I could study so hard for so long without dying."

FOOTBALL

They made it happen -

The mountains of Boone, North Carolina echoed with the screams and yells of excited, rain-soaked Gulf Coast fans as Tyrone Jones of Ruston, La. crashed across the goal line to tie the East Bowl game at 13-13 with only 34 seconds left on the clock. The Lees-McRae Bobcats were in a state of shock. Their chance for a national title was gone. The crushing blow as a 14-yard looping pass delivered by quarterback Danny Kelly of d'Iberville as he was being decked by several onrushing defenders. Jones had to come back to the ball to make the catch.

The decisive extra point was kicked by Adethack Chanthavane of Mobile, who then ran to near mid-field and dropped to his knees with his arms raised toward his bench.

It was a magnificent finish for the Bulldogs, who early in the season seemed unable to "get it together". But get it together they did and wound up second in the South Division.

In the playoff, Gulf Coast defeated the North Division leader Itawamba 20-16 in a gully washer at Fulton. The Bulldogs captured the state title by upsetting Northwest 14-13.

The East Bowl victory gave the Bulldogs an overall 10-3 season. And it gave Coach George Sekul his eighth state title in 21 years at Gulf Coast and assured the Bulldogs of the berth in the East Bowl, one of seven post-season bowl games sanctioned by the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Sekul ended the season with an overall career record of 186 wins, 41 losses and 4 ties. The East Bowl was his 4th bowl win. He also has two national championships to his credit.

He was named Coach of the Year for the National Junior College Athletic Association Region XXIII and for the Mississippi Junior College Athletic Association.

And the Bulldogs, who had not been ranked all season by the NJCAA, ended the year holding the 9th spot in the national rankings.

Guy set a new track record in the 5,000 meter race at the State Meet at Goodman. He finished in 16 minutes, 22.9 seconds, nearly 30 seconds faster than the previous record. And in the 1,500 meters, his first-place time of 4:15.2 missed the record by only two-tenths of a second. He finished third in the 800-meter run.

THE BAND OF GOLD

The 143-member Band of Gold, under the direction of Virgel Fulcher, is comprised of students from all three campuses. Choreographer for the dance team is Delta De LaFuenta.

From these 143 members, three concert bands have been formed — a Perk Band, a Coast Concert Band, and a Symphonic Band which is made up of a select group.

This year a concert was performed at all three campuses, and spring and Christmas concerts were held. In addition, the band marched in seven parades, including four Mardi Gras parades, and performed at all football games.

But the highlight of the year was the trip to Boone, North Carolina to play in the East Bowl and give the Bulldogs the support it took for them to bring home the championship trophy.
