Academic Costume and Regalia

Academic gowns represent a tradition handed down from the universities of the Middle Ages. At that time, the gowns were a common dress for students and faculty. The usual color of academic gowns is black, but the official color of the junior college gown is blue.

The bachelor's gown is worn closed and has long sleeves; the master's gown is worn open and has slits in the elbows of the sleeves; and the doctor's gown, also worn open, is trimmed with velvet bands.

Before their present square mortarboard design, caps were originally round. The hoods once served as cowls that could be slipped over the head for warmth. Hoods are lined with colors of the college or university from which the wearer received his or her degree. Trimming or color of the hood designates the degree.

The Alma Mater

'Way down south there's a school that we all know,
Where the winds from the gulf doth ever blow.

'Mong the pines so stately and so tall
We listen to your call,
We love you best of all.

Fame was thine through the years of the past,
And we know thy name shall ever last.
Thou art noble, proud and true,
Oh, Gulf Coast, we all love you!

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Shad White

In his time as State Auditor, Shad White's team has stopped the largest public fraud in state history, made the largest civil recovery after an auditor's investigation in the history of the office, and concluded cases that, collectively, led to hundreds of years of prison sentences for fraudsters.

White, a Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE), grew up in Sandersville, Mississippi, population 731, in a blue-collar family. His father and grandfather were oilfield pumpers, and his mother and grandmother were public school teachers. On the weekends, his father was music minister at their small country church, and his mother played the organ. Shad went on to earn degrees from the University of Mississippi, the University of Oxford, where he studied as a Rhodes Scholar, and Harvard Law School.

White was appointed the 42nd State Auditor of Mississippi in July 2018 and won election to the office after establishing a tough, no-nonsense reputation. Prior to becoming Auditor, White served as a special prosecutor, won ethics cases against politicians who broke the law, and earned a certificate in forensic accounting (the use of accounting to discover fraud) from the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. He also serves in the military as a captain in the Mississippi National Guard.

Today Shad, his wife, Rina, and their children live in Rankin County and are faithful members at St. Richard Church.
