*'Way down south there's a school that we all know,
Where the winds from the gulf doth ever blow.
'Mong the pines so stately and so tall
We listen to your call,

DUANE OLSEN

Duane Olsen has has been a driver and a mechanic throughout his career. Beginning with his military service, where he worked in transportation in the Air Force, Olsen discovered a true love for driving - whether a bus, a big rig or his own vehicle.

“Driving is just something that I enjoy,” he said,“especially when I drive our sports teams or other student groups to and from places. I enjoy hearing the students talk and the energy they have for everything.”

Olsen takes his job seriously, knowing that his passengers count on him to drive carefully and make sure the vehicle is in good working order. “We check out each of our vehicles before and after every trip to make sure all passengers have a safe and relaxing time,” he said.

That includes cleaning up the vehicle during a trip. “If passengers are off the bus for lunch or at the event we have traveled to, I clean the bus and do a safety check so that we all have a comfortable return home. Our students are always the No. 1 consideration.”

WILLY SHOWAH

JACKSON COUNTY CAMPUS
INSTRUCTOR OF THE YEAR

Mentoring his students and others in the community is key to Willy Showah's teaching philosophy. He looks for ways to provide examples of good work ethic, timeliness, being a team player, and enthusiasm for the job to his students, fellow Gulf Coast employees, his family and community.

"I don't think my position as a mentor stops at the classroom door," he said. "I want my students and others to see that I am living what I teach."

As a lifelong machinist, learning the trade at his father's feet, Showah has a zeal for and commitment to his trade that is contagious to those around him.

"Teachers must show a passion for their subject and have a desire to share their enthusiasm with students. That creates an atmosphere where students enjoy learning and actually learn better."

Showah said that while COVID-19 has offered some challenges in his classroom, his students are eager to be in class every day.

"We just follow the guidelines the college has put in place and always try to be safe," he said. "Safety is already a big part of what we teach in the machine shop, so this is really nothing new for students. They are actually so happy to be here learning that I have to make them take breaks, leave at lunchtime and go home in the afternoon. That's the kind of commitment to their learning and future careers that will get them great jobs."

LINDA OTIS

JACKSON COUNTY CAMPUS
DIFFERENCE MAKER

Linda Otis has been at the college for 26 years and has no plans for retirement. That is something her co-workers are happy about.

"I love to help people and to solve the problems they bring to me," she said. "Whether it is a piece of equipment they need for their classroom or just emotional support for someone having a bad day, I try to be their champion."

Otis has an infectious smile that lights up a room and when she answers the phone, you can hear the calmness and grace she imparts.

"I think everyone needs a little calm in their day, especially our instructors," she said. "They have worked so hard to make all of the necessary changes due to COVID. I just want to provide them with a cheerful outlook and a tranquil place to be when they need it."

Otis is the first person students and their parents see when they want to see the dean of Teaching and Learning. "Whatever issue they have at hand, I want them to know I will be their advocate. While all of our instructors are great and do an excellent job, students and their parents need to feel their voices are heard. Usually the problems are a quick fix. It always brings me joy to see them leaving our offices with a positive attitude about resolving an issue."

MR. AND MISS HARRISON COUNTY CAMPUS

ALAINA PAIGE OLSEN

Alaina Paige Olsen, the daughter of Johnny Olsen Jr. and Amy Ford Olsen, graduated from St. Patrick Catholic High School in 2020. While attending HC, Alaina was an active member of the Reflections Team, Phi Theta Kappa, and Student Government Association. She served as Vice President of Leadership for the Omicron Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, as the President of the Student Government Association, as a Reflections Team Member and as a Campus Activities Board Member. Alaina was named Who's Who Among Students at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and inducted into 2021-2022 MGCCC Hall of Fame for the Harrison County Campus. She made the Vice President's List and earned the Academic Excellence Scholarship, Honors College Scholarship, and the Reflections Team Scholarship.

During her time at Gulf Coast, Alaina has credited her academic and leadership accomplishments to the wonderful faculty, staff, administration. During her time as a student, Alaina realized her call to become a teacher while she increased her community connections working at Educate and Celebrate, which is a local store for educators to purchase classroom products and aids and for parents and students to purchase school uniforms. This desire to teach also stemmed from her experience in Dr. Trevor Smith's World Civilization class at the Harrison County Campus, where she learned to value history.

Gulf Coast has helped Alaina to reach her goals and to be prepared to continue her education at Mississippi State University, where she will graduate with a bachelor's degree in elementary education with endorsement areas in social studies and math, which were fulfilled at Gulf Coast. To describe her time at MGCCC, Alaina said, "I chose Gulf Coast because it felt responsible, but the community Dr. Graham has created, and the way her presence spreads are the reasons I stayed."

CAMERON M. TURMAN

Cameron M. Turman, the son of George and Elizabeth Turman, graduated from D'Iberville High School in 2020.

While attending HC, Cameron served as the regional secretary and vice president of scholarship for the Omicron Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, as the Student Government Association sophomore class President, and as a member of the Reflections Team. Cameron was voted MGCCC HC Campus Freshman Class Favorite. He was named Who's Who among students at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and inducted into the MGCCC Hall of Fame for the Harrison County Campus. Cameron attained a 3.9 GPA and made the Vice President's List. Cameron earned an academic excellence scholarship in addition to the Honors College Scholarship.

Following graduation in May of 2022, Cameron will relocate to Oxford to attend The University of Mississippi to finish his bachelor's degree in biochemistry. Afterwards, he will relocate to Jackson to begin his journey at The University of Mississippi Medical Center. Here he will strive towards medical doctor and one day become a certified surgeon.

When asked why Cameron attended MGCCC, he responded, "I wanted to go to MGCCC because it was affordable and close to home. MGCCC has prepared me for learning at a higher level and has allowed me to have prior knowledge of how college would really be without diving into the deep end. It has allowed me to grow accustomed to and expand my experience in a college classroom setting. The connections I have made along the way will have a major impact on my life."

AMANDA SHARROW

HARRISON COUNTY CAMPUS
INSTRUCTOR OF THE YEAR

Serenity isn't something most people expect to find in a physics classroom. At MGCCC's Harrison County Campus, that's exactly what students find with Amanda Sharrow. She makes sure her classroom is full of not only serenity but also security and support.

"Often times, students enter a physics classroom with some bit of trepidation and I want them to feel at ease," Sharrow said. "I want them to know that I am here to help them navigate through the different aspects of the course and make them feel comfortable enough to ask questions."

Teaching the "impossible science," Sharrow said that physics did not come naturally to her either. She often struggled for the meaning, thinking that everyone else understood the subject while she fell behind. Part of teaching physics for her today is to make sure students know that very few people have the answers immediately. Everyone has questions, but many are just silent about their struggles. That leads students to feel isolated.

"At the end of my first full year of teaching at MGCCC, I read a student evaluation that really struck a chord with me. The review read, 'She takes the fear out of physics.' Ever since, that has become the backbone of my teaching philosophy. Physics often has a negative stigma associated with it. I want to help students get beyond that stigma."

Sharrow said she pushes herself and her students to leave the comfort zone and try new things. "I have proven to myself that I can do the impossible when I work as part of a great team. Between my fellow science faculty members and my students, the teamwork continues to help all of us find success."

ISAAC FARLEY

HARRISON COUNTY CAMPUS
DIFFERENCE MAKER

Isaac Farley has held a variety of positions at MGCCC since he started at the college in 2002. He is now the custodial supervisor at the Harrison County Campus. In his current role he is a caretaker for a campus that continues to grow with event centers that require extra attention.

"With the HRM and the new iMPAC, we have a lot of setting up, breaking down, and equipment management to handle," he said. "Other parts of the campus require attention as well because we want to ensure all of our facilities are clean and well maintained."

It's a job he takes very seriously and enjoys. In fact, you can find Farley on campus early and well after his shift ends. "I really love the college and this campus," he said. "I want to make sure that what visitors and students see on our campus is that it looks its very best. I think a clean environment makes happier employees and more successful students."

Farley credits his co-workers with his positive attitude about his job. "I love working here and am truly blessed to work with a great group of people in Maintenance and in the rest of the college as well."

EON REALITY AND MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST COMMUNITY COLLEGE INAUGURATE BRAND NEW INTERACTIVE DIGITAL CENTER

The new Center is focused on bringing XR to students throughout the school and beyond EON Reality, the global leader in Augmented Reality (AR) and Virtual Reality (VR)-based knowledge and skills transfer for industry and education, announces the inauguration of a new Interactive Digital Center in Mississippi alongside its partner, Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College (MGCCC). The Center features both a VR Innovation Academy and hub for advanced Extended Reality (XR) solutions. The VR Innovation Academy will serve as the Gulf Coast region's new home for educating and training the next generation of XR developers. The Interactive Digital Center will provide opportunities for interested parties to develop XR solutions for business, industry, and other organizations. For those who are unfamiliar with EON Reality's VR Innovation Academy program, the academic institutions are embedded within colleges, universities, and other centers of learning around the world — each one focused on teaching students who are interested in learning how to create AR and VR applications. It provides both the knowledge and experience necessary for someone looking to get a career in any field related to XR technology, as well as a thorough top-to-bottom understanding of EON-XR. The first classes for the MGCCC VR Innovation Academy commence this summer 2021. For the MGCCC inauguration, EON Reality President Mats Johansson traveled to the Harrison County Campus in Gulfport — marking the first in-person inauguration since before the COVID-19 pandemic. "We are very proud to partner with MGCCC on our quest to democratize XR for learning," Johansson said. "Together we will use XR to help students and workers learn faster retain information longer and make better decisions." In addition to the speeches and ribbon-cutting ceremony, attendees from both parties — including Project Manager and inaugural VR Innovation Academy trainer Matthew Taylor from EON Reality and Dr. Mary Graham from MGCCC — were joined by important government officials, media, and other valuable participants for the grand opening. "During the pandemic, MGCCC began implementing new technologies, such as XR, to enhance remote learning by introducing user-friendly immersive lessons and content. Embracing emerging technology allowed the college to maintain the rigorous and high-quality education needed by our students despite intermittent shutdowns and reduced classroom/laboratory capacity," said Dr. Jonathan Woodward, Executive Vice President of Teaching and Learning. "Through the partnership with EON Reality and with the grant provided through the Governor's Emergency Education Response (GEER) fund for Essential Emergency Educational Services as part of the U.S. Government's CARES Act, the college is stepping into a new era of technology-based learning, cutting-edge program development and training, and expanded learning opportunities for both college-level and high school students. The AR/VR/XR technology and software for enhancement of remote skills-based learning will allow the college to provide training for its students and industry partners that will increase efficiency, specificity, and drastically reduce both costs and risks. The Simulation and Game Design Technology program will help meet the job market demand for AR/VR/XR engineers, which has grown by 1,400 percent in the last year for many sectors, including industrial automation, aerospace, construction, education, and health care. This growth in the job market demand has led to an unprecedented need to rapidly train people to develop AR/VR/XR content."

PERKINSTON CAMPUS

MOVE IN DAY

MOVE IN DAY is full of events that welcome students to their new home away from home. Students were greeted at the door by resident assistants, who showed them to their rooms. After a long day of moving furniture and clothes, students were able to stop by the Coke wagon to cool down and meet other friendly faces. The Perkinson Campus comes alive each August.

BLOOD DRIVE

This year Perkinson Campus students were offered the chance to donate blood. Donating blood is an essential resource to the medical industry, but more importantly is the most invaluable gift an individual can give, the gift of life. The Perkinson Campus has all “types.” Students, along with faculty and staff, were seen rolling up their sleeves to save a life during this two-day blood drive. MGCCC Bulldogs know how to serve and give.

CLEAN-UP

Each year students are encouraged to help beautify and take pride in the campus. This group’s driven activity involved cleaning up various sections of the campus and surrounding areas, while also promoting environmental awareness to the local communities and others. This year, athletic groups, student organizations and MGCCC staff members spent some time making a positive difference by cleaning up the campus!

The Perkinston Campus celebrated Homecoming Week with activities all week in anticipation for the big game against Southwest Community College. Some of the events included movie nights, spirit smoothies, and the annual event Octoberfest. Students in the residence halls and other campus departments enjoyed some fun and spirited competition as they decorated Homecoming boards displaying their talent and school pride. These Homecoming Spirit Boards were displayed at the front of campus. Members of the campus also enjoyed the traditional Homecoming dance. Earlier in the week, the Homecoming court enjoyed a luncheon where the queen was announced.

HALLOWEEN EVENTS

College life on the Perkinson Campus is always a “treat,” especially during Halloween. On multiple occasions, faculty, staff, and students of the Perkinson Campus were seen transforming into entertaining characters, which began with the Campus Activities Board hosting a costume dance party. Students were able to enjoy showing off their personalities through costumes!

The Halloween festivities continued as MGCCC faculty, staff, and students greeted Perkinson Elementary School children for the annual trick or treat event. Everyone had a “fa-boo-lous” time as the elementary students made their way around the boulevard receiving many goodies from their Bulldog family.

VETERANS DAY EVENTS

On Veterans Day, November 11, 2021, MGCCC students came together to celebrate and honor those who serve our great country. Those in attendance were able to hear from various speakers and see performances by the MGCCC Cheerleaders and Perkettes. Once the service concluded, participants were able to compete in a 5K walk/run to continue honoring our nations heroes. As the race ended, “Taps” was played by members of the Band of Gold while the American flag was lowered for the day.

“TACO”BOUT ART FALL STUDENT SHOWCASE

MGCCC’s School of Visual and Performing Arts at the Perkinson Campus hosted Taco’bout Art Fall Student Showcase on November 16, 2021 at Malone Hall. The event included performances by the MGCCC Jazz Band, Perkettes, Jazz Dance class students, Mississippi Sound, and an exhibit of the works by MGCCC visual art students. Previously known as the Tri-Art-A-Thon, the annual Student Arts Showcase is a collaborative event that allows students to display their artistic talents. For many of these students, art has played an important role and been a therapeutic tool throughout the trialing time of COVID-19. This event provided audience members an artistic escape from the harshness of our current reality, allowing them the opportunity to experience the creativity and light these students have discovered during the pandemic.

TALENT SHOW

The Perkinston Campus Talent Show is a way for students to display their unique and individual talents or skills to students, family, friends, and faculty. The Annual Fall Perkinston Campus Talent can provide students with a boost of self-esteem, confidence, and a way to encourage students! Hosted by the Campus Activities Board on November 17, 2021, the show featured around 15 performances that were judged by MGCCC staff members. Coming in first place was Aavriel Smith. The second place spot went to Lanie Forehand. Desiree Fauchaux was the third place winner.

FESTIVAL OF LIGHTS

The Festival of Lights is an annual event hosted by the Perkinston Campus. The festival is held on the first Friday in December and welcomed thousands of community members. The entire campus was carefully decorated with colorful lights and displays. Those that attended were able to enjoy food, drinks, games, and performances by the Band of Gold, Mississippi Sound, Perkettes, and other student groups.

SPRING EVENTS

Even though the annual Mardi Gras Ball was canceled, due to COVID-19 restrictions, students found a way to make the spring 2021 semester special and memorable with other activities. These activities included events such as Coffee with Cops, Cookies and Cocoa, Spring Fever Movie Night, Laser Tag, the annual crawfish boil, as well as other student events. The Perkinson Campus is a place where students can be involved and make memories that will last forever.

He plans to attend the University of South Alabama to complete his degree in radiologic science, and eventually continue his education into medical school.

INSTRUCTOR OF THE YEAR
JAMES PITTMAN

A passion for literature is one of the first things you notice about James Pittman. That passion catches his students’ attention and makes them interested as well. “I want my students to understand the relevance of literature, even ancient literature like the play “Oedipus.” Literature teaches us so much, like compassion and empathy. It teaches us universal truths about history and humanity.”
Pittman started his career as an English teacher at Stone County Schools. “I loved teaching at that level (junior high and high school), and I think that experience has made me a better college instructor.” Pittman was encouraged to apply for a job at MGCCC by several instructors at the college. “I knew it was a great place to work and having grown up in this community, with the college right here, working here was always sort of a goal.”
Now, as a college instructor, Pittman works to make his students readers and writers. “Reading is not just something we do to learn how to do things or study history or even read a play. Reading provides us entertainment, taking us to new places and seeing things from other perspectives. It also gives us wonderful examples of writing.”
He said most students are apprehensive about writing, but he seeks to relieve those fears through free writing. “I offer them the opportunity to write freely, with no rules or guidelines. As they work their way further into the writing process, they gain confidence in their ability to write and they can begin adding rules and guidelines to that writing without the initial fear that kept them limited in their skills as writers.”

WILL OVERSTREET
DIFFERENCE MAKER

Will Overstreet has been at the college since he was in high school, working in the Grounds department mowing lawns at the Perkinson Campus. He loved that job and after moving through several positions and continuing his education, he moved into what has been his favorite position at the George County Center. “I found my home here,” he said. “I love our campus, the students, and my co-workers here. I also love the community.” Ask anyone in George County and they probably know Will Overstreet and love him. “The people in George County are just so laid back and friendly,” he said. “I couldn’t ask for a better place to work or a better community to serve.” While Overstreet serves as the Evening/Weekend coordinator, his job is actually much bigger than that. He has been at the center for so long that he knows just about every job there. “There have been times when someone has retired or is out for one reason or another, and I’ve learned to do what has to be done to keep the center running smoothly. Over the years, I have just had the opportunity to learn many, many different responsibilities here.” His biggest joy, however, is working with students. He helps with the Food Pantry on campus, leads the Reflections Team, and is the Phi Theta Kappa chapter adviser. “The students are really what keep me going,” he said. “Knowing that I am a part of their success and helping them discover new things is very rewarding.”
